KIMBERLEY & NICK

Atlanta, Georgia

Kimberley and Nick said I do in the midst of the elegant romance of the Atlanta Botanical Garden. The black tie affair glowed with candlelight accented on all sides by pink roses and whimsical arrangements of flowers and plant life that brought the beauty of the gardens indoors from the ceremony to reception. The bride wore a trumpet-style Mori Lee gown with sweetheart neckline and a corset back. Her bridesmaids complemented her perfectly in sophisticated black, while Nick and his groomsmen were swoon-worthy in black tuxedo and suits. The reception started with the Hora, before guests enjoyed a dinner of seasonal fall delights including grilled apple salad and Chilean sea bass. A croque-madame of chocolate and vanilla filled puffs alongside a groom's cake of chocolate and chocolate ganache rounded out the meal. The brass band Simply Irresistible played throughout the evening, keeping guests on the dance floor from start to finish, enough choreographed dance moves at the ready to keep everyone well entertained. Kimberley and Nick took off for St. Lucia the next morning, happy-ever-after ahead of them.
